Penticton Quilters Guild, Box 1064, Penticton, BC V2A

Summer is waning, and exciting new things are beginning. I wondered if there was such a thing as Post Quilt Show syndrome. We had such a busy spring and if you are like me feel it went so well but I welcomed the quieter times. Once the smoke clears and the fires are out things will look brighter. The 2018/19 season of the guild is gearing up with interesting programs for you to enjoy getting to know the guild members better and learn new techniques. Welcome to our new additions on the executive, list is further on in the letter.

Our community quilts gave out 6 quilts over the summer to two families that lost their homes in Penticton. Rae French will be needing more baby's first quilts and a reminder that we need to check all the quilts for left over pins. Oh Ouch! Our members were busy over the summer.

Cheryl Woodcock is recovering from surgery and getting her strength back more every day. We cheered on with Pati as her survivor ship team competed in Italy. Tammy Brennan and team won to represent BC in the BC Senior games in New Brunswick and they are bringing home the Gold!!!!

Congratulations! We say goodbye to Marilyn McKitrick who is moving to Victoria. Thank you for all your demonstrations and classes to help everyone along with their FMQ. Come back for a visit. The photo on the right is Terry Rowlands little houses and it won a ribbon at the CQA this June. We seen this quilt here in Penticton at the Trunk show before our three-day Collage course. What a fantastic time was had! Many of our members bussed, flew or drove down to take in the CQA event in Vancouver. Looking forward to hearing how the gals who went to Sisters, Oregon enjoyed that event. Summerland's quilt in the park had to be moved due to fires nearby but it was still a go! Hope some of you made it down that day.

A Modern Quilt Guild could be starting in our area. If you are interested check with Debra or pop into Chery Tree Quilts for more info. Some of the creations are just amazing.....

Diane, Newsletter editor

We were wowed at our Collage class and trunk show this June when Terry Rowland came to town. The trunk show had so much eye candy and then we dug in and began the journey to creating our very own collages. Hopefully some will be finished and brought to our September Guild meeting for everyone to enjoy. Terry is an amazing artist, sharing her expertise with us. What a great three days we had.

Things to remember for the meeting:

- Membership form and payment in an envelope please! Eileen Zornes will return your receipt in the envelope. Membership form is attached to this email!
- Projects you completed this summer for show and tell including Collages from our course.
- Coffee cup
- Name Tag
- Bring a friend!

-Reminder Early Coffee at 8:30, meeting begins at 9am

A reminder from the Library - Books lent out for the summer are due at the September meeting.

The Social Committee will continue to charge 25 cents for coffee on regular meeting days, there will be no charge on days when classes are being held.

There will be a sign up sheet available for those who would like to bring goodies!
Yum Yum!

See you all on Sep. 12th.

BABIES FIRST

Happy September! Did your summer fly by as quickly as mine did? Company (of course!), the wedding of a granddaughter, the proverbial harvesting of the garden and suddenly...poof! It's time to think fall! For the first time in weeks I got to spend several hours today anchored to my sewing machine. What a joy to be back in my 'happy place'!

As I joyfully worked on a baby quilt for my first great grandchild (due in mid-October) I realized we are in need of quilts for our Babies First project. a few weeks ago, I handed off 14 quilts to our Interior Health liaison Karen-Ann. Which means I have 0 on hand. Karen-Ann assures me they have enough quilts for a couple of months, but I will gladly accept donations starting at our September Guild meeting.

It will be so good to see all of you again! I know we have a fun and exciting year ahead of us.

Piecefully Yours, Rae

Programs

Our summer came and is now winding down already, making its way towards other parts of the world. Our travel plans may have changed along with our garden routines due to the smoke but with the cooling temperatures comes new plans for keeping busy. In planning for our upcoming season of Workshops, I have tried to come up with some different and fun things for you to try. Some will be planned workshop classes, others will be introduced casually on our meeting days for your ongoing participation if you are interested and we can work on those at the hall after the meeting ends. We will of course continue with having regular demos throughout the upcoming quilting year. If you have a specific trick, technique or block you would like to share or see, please let me know and we will make it happen. We will have a Workshop survey for your completion at our first meeting where you can indicate what interests you have and ideas for future workshops. This is a great help in the planning process.

Just to give you a heads up, in the new year we will be doing 2 things that require a jelly roll, so if you want to add that to your sales shopping list or wish list for Christmas that might be a good thing. Hopefully we will have samples for you to see by our December potluck luncheon.

I am looking forward to seeing you all in the next few weeks and hope to see some inspirational pieces on display for Show and Tell.

Looking for a new home!

There is a quilt rack available that will hold a double sized quilt for quilting by hand.

It is solid wood and belonged to the Okanagan Falls Women's Institute for many years. The W.I has now folded, and they would like to find a kind home for it.

See Kathy Sweeten for details!

LIBRARY: Welcome back everyone! Hope you enjoyed your summer reading! Please remember to return all items that you have borrowed from our library - they are due at the first meeting - September 12!

I am new in this position so hope you all will be patient with me. Thanks to Yvonne Mottishaw and Marlene Lovset for all their previous work - creating, organizing, and maintaining our superb collection!! If you have any suggestions for new books or magazines, please let me know. If you are decluttering and wish to donate any items to our collections, please bring to our first meeting.

FALL SALE:

GUILD MEETING OCTOBER 10 - members are invited to bring fabric (big & small pieces) and quilting resources (tools, patterns, books, magazines) to sell. As in the past, you are responsible for pricing & labelling your items, and collecting the funds. Always a fun event; your discards may be someone else's treasures!!

Hello fellow quilters,

Its Bobbi B. here saying hello & welcome back to Guild. I'm looking forward to fall and hopefully the end of this smoke & the return to beautiful blue Okanagan skies.

Between company & summer activities I haven't got much quilting done, so my show'n'tell will be sparse. I have been working on fashion sewing, making cozy tops, for our trip to the Maritimes in Sept. I will miss our Sept activities, but will be there for the Oct. meeting, taking minutes as usual. Wishing you a fun time & looking forward to re-connecting with everyone.

Community Quilts

There were six quilts delivered to the two families that were burned out. We are now in the need of a few quilts suitable for ten and eleven-year-old boys. Most of our quilts are for the younger children.

Looking forward to September. Peggy

A message from our Co-President. . . .

And so, another quilting year begins! Just in time to take advantage of cooler temperatures and clearer air. I'm ready to move into fall. My favourite season, I think, other than the other three! They all have their good points though, and I'm generally happy with what ever the season brings. I wouldn't like 365 days of summery weather though, give me some rain and snow once in a while. But not too much.

I spent a lot of time inside this summer, hiding out from the smoke and heat. I still have a few completed projects to show for my days inside, though I've already delivered 6 small quilts to family members and friends. I worked so hard I had to ask my husband to give me a new quilter's thimble for my birthday. I wore a hole clean through my old one!! Ask to see it at the next meeting.

I'm looking forward to catching up on what everyone's been doing for the past months and to learning some new techniques. Pati's been busy over the break and has organized some interesting classes and activities for us. Get ready for fun and learning.

Welcome back, I'll see you on the 12th. Nonie.

10:00 am Meeting opened by Co-President Nonie Cornell.

Motion to adopt minutes from April 11th meeting by Ann Brown & seconded by Dianne Birnie. Carried.

Welcome to all, with 2 visitors today:

Micheline Gaucher, from Chilliwack - Bobbi Bodden's friend & fellow quilter.
